

Beech Acres Presents

For the Love of Kids[®]

A Conference on Practical Parenting

Saturday, November 8, 2003

9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m.

Northern Kentucky Convention Center

"You have significantly developed your skill set as a parent and a role model."

Maria Lopez, Age 4

Okay, your kids may not put it in those words exactly, but they will notice a difference in your relationship with them, after you've experienced For the Love of Kids. This one-of-a-kind parenting conference presented by Beech Acres is celebrating 5 years of helping parents build better relationships with their children.

For the Love of Kids provides practical, down-to-earth, parenting information that you can use on a daily basis.

For the Love of Kids has already changed the lives of thousands of families. 97% of parents who attended last year's conference said they became better parents as a result of the skills, techniques and insights they learned at the conference. Nine out of ten parents experienced a positive change in their relationship with their children. With those kinds of results, you don't want to miss this unique opportunity!

National, regional, and local parenting experts will speak on a range of topics, including:

Boys Will Be Boys: Raising the next generation of men

Effective Discipline: Setting fair rules for good behaviors that will last a lifetime

I Like Being Me: Parenting tips to build your child's self-esteem

Moms Matter, Too: Taking care of yourself so you can take care of your family

Raising Teens: It's never too late to influence your teen's life

He Hit Me First! Practical tips for managing and reducing sibling rivalry

Shared Reading: When a picture is worth a thousand words

Sugar & Spice and Everything Nice: Specific advice for raising daughters

Peer Pressure: Helping your child survive the social jungle

Responsible Men, Responsible Fathers: Prioritizing your special role as Dad

Infants and Toddlers: Understanding your young child's temperament

I Used to Have a Handle on Life, But It Broke: Power solutions for parents with too much to do

It's Raining Again: Teaching your kids to deal with life's disappointments
